

TO PROBE SOLOMON'S CONVICT CAMP

BAND BENEFIT ASSURES CITY ITS PROGRAM

More Than $800 Realized From Benefit if War Tax Abatement Is Given
BEGIN WORK SOON
Committee to Organize Juveniles so That Band Director Can Begin Soon

Bismarck's band benefit under the auspices of the Association of Commerce went over the top in fine shape last evening. Income from ticket sales amounted to $992.30. All services were donated. The city furnished the Auditorium for this fine community event and the only expense was $150 for the Halliwell company. Application is in for abatement of the war tax of $80.80 which is customary in benefits of this kind. If the war tax is abated the net proceeds for the band will amount to $842.30.

This will probably carry the band over until fall or in other words give the nucleus for a fund that will put a juvenile and adult band upon a firm financial footing. Next fall another drive and benefit probably will be held.

Steps will be taken at once to register the boys and girls and adults who desire to join the new organization so that when the leader comes who is to be a member of the High school faculty, much of the preliminary registration work will be done.

To Build Organization
It is the intention to build up high class musical organizations so financial that they can turn out on public occasions free of charge. With the fine cooperation evidenced at this benefit, it is believed that band through popular concerts and in other ways can do much to raise the funds necessary to keep up such organizations.

The Auditorium was almost filled for the event. Secretary Bradley of the Association of Commerce said many compliments were received today on the character of the entertainment.

"The event was a success financially and otherwise," said Mr. Bradley today. "The response was most gratifying to the association, and shows the public is greatly interested in the association's effort to put band music on a permanent basis in the city."

Spencer Hoise explained, during the intermission of the concert, the band program. He said the "Elks" sometime ago decided to take up the matter of promoting a juvenile band. Later, he said, a cooperative arrangement was worked out where the program would be financed by the Association of Commerce and the city schools. L. C. Sorlien, of Hankinson, an accomplished musical director, will teach part of the day in the high school, and will devote the remainder of his time to building up juvenile band and orchestra music in the city. He will arrive in Bismarck within a few weeks.

To build a permanent band in the city it is necessary, Mr. Hoise said, to train the youth in band music, to take the places of those who faithfully serve in the adult bands and expect to relinquish this work after years of service. He said at least would be taken to enroll juvenile so that Mr. Sorlien can begin instruction as soon as he arrives here.

Miss Mary Meeker, Brooklyn, N. Y., won a prize for her beautiful hands, called by judges the most beautiful in America. They are six and one-half inches long and three wide. Mothers, when you show this to daughter tell her Miss Meeker credits the beauty of her hands to washing dishes.

STATE BANK BUILDING IS CONSIDERED

Purchase or Erection of Building for Bank of North Dakota Suggested

Officials of the Bank of North Dakota are considering the erection of a new building or the purchase of a bank building, it became known here today.

The bank has not renewed its lease on a four-story building in which the bank occupies two floors and other state offices occupy the other floors. When the new Memorial building is completed by the end of this year, according to plans of the Board of Administration, all state departments will be housed in the state capitol buildings. The Bank of North Dakota, however, cannot be accommodated.

A legislative resolution protested against rent paid for the Bank of North Dakota building, and directed the Board of Administration to seek cheaper quarters. No suitable quarters have been located by the Board or bank officials.

These using the building or acquisition of a building for the Bank of North Dakota hold that if the bank is abolished by the next legislature or vote of the people it probably would require several years to entirely liquidate it. The growth of the rural credits department has necessitated much more room than the department formerly required.

If a building is built, it is understood, it probably would be a modest two-story building. The bank, it is held, has authority to acquire or build a building, while no state board can take such action without legislative sanction.

EXPECTS TO FURNISH BAIL

Towner, N. D., April 19.—Mrs. Ursula Smith, held in the county jail here on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the death by poisoning of John H. Smith, her divorced husband, at Grandville, on April 2 expects today to furnish the $5,000 bond required for her release pending a preliminary hearing to be held at Grandville on April 24.

NEW DANCING CHAMP STOPS AT 90 HOURS

Cleveland, April 20.—Miss June Curry, who became the world's champion endurance dancer last night, showed no ill effects today as a result of her 90 hours and 10 minutes continuous performance. She was at her home resting and considering "some attractive offers," Miss Curry was in good physical condition when she stopped dancing and physicians said she could have continued for several hours longer.

WILL DEFEND LIGNITE RATES

North Dakota Rail Commission to Protect Them

Any attempt to adjust rates on Illinois or Montana coal which would adversely affect shippers' lignite coal rates in North Dakota will be resisted by the state railroad commission, at a hearing to be held in Minneapolis, May 2. V. E. Smart, traffic manager of the commission, said today.

Representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission, in its Minneapolis hearing, will consider four complaints involving coal rates from points in Illinois and from lake docks to points in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, and complaints on rates from Montana and Wyoming to points in North Dakota.

The dock companies seek to have established a scale similar to one established some months ago, applicable to coal from Duluth and Superior, he added.

The North Dakota commission traffic department wants advice from wool shippers in the state, to aid it in determining what action, if any, it shall take toward the Interstate Commerce Commission investigation of wool rates between the Pacific Coast and intermediate territory, including North Dakota.

LEGION HEAD VISITS CITY DURING JUNE

Commander Alvin Owsley to Make Two Trips in State, Fargo and Bismarck

COMMANDER GETS WORD

Mack Traynor Endeavoring to Arrange For Other Visits in State

Fargo, April 20.—Commander Alvin Owsley of the American Legion will make at least two trips in North Dakota in June on his trip east from Billings, Montana, according to Mack C. Traynor, North Dakota department commander, in a communication sent from Devils Lake today.

Commander Owsley is scheduled to arrive in Bismarck on the morning of June 14 and will spend the night there. The other stop will be at Fargo the next day.

State Commander Traynor is endeavoring to arrange visits to other North Dakota cities for the national head of the Legion before the latter resumes his trip to Minnesota and other states east.

Commander Corbin of the Lloyd Spetz Post, Bismarck, had received no word of the visit today. He said, however, that the Bismarck post would take steps to arrange for a suitable reception, and would invite other posts in this section of the state to co-operate.

DAUGHERTY HOLDS ACTION IN SUGAR CASE

Has Under Consideration Request for Grand Jury Indictments

SEE FURTHER SUITS

Washington, April 20.—Whether criminal prosecution by the government will file its injunction suit filed in New York yesterday to protect the public against the speculative hoarding of sugar prices, rested today on the decision of Attorney-General Daugherty.

The Attorney-General, who now is at Asheville, N. C., was said officially today to have under consideration a request upon the federal grand jury in New York for criminal indictment under the conspiracy provisions of the Sherman act, of defendants named in the injunction suit to prevent future or speculative trading on the New York sugar exchange.

With the first move by the government designed to prevent further increases in raw sugar prices, the criminal action to follow against defendants named in the injunction suit against the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange and the New York Coffee and Sugar clearing house association, should the Attorney-General decide the evidence warrants such procedure on conspiracy charges, would be the logical next step in the government procedure, officials explained.

In its unprecedented exchange to stop speculation on commodity exchange by invoking the conspiracy section of the anti-trust law, the government, it was said, may take another line in the civil suit. It may ask the court for an order to prevent settlement in speculative trading between brokers and customers since February, it is said, thus striking at the profits of the speculators.

FATHERS, SONS MEET TONIGHT

The third annual Fathers and Sons banquet will be held in the high school gymnasium at 6:15 o'clock this evening.

An attendance of 500 "dads and lads" is expected. The number of boys enrolled was so great a call was sent out for all adults possible to attend and "father" a boy for the banquet.

VALLEY SPUDS MOSTLY SHIPPED

The potato shipping business in the northern Red River valley is pretty well cleared up, according to reports of the Great Northern railroad to C. W. McDonnell, state railroad commissioner. Road officials have asserted stories of the potato car shortage were over-stated.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 20.—Ninety-two oil promoters were indicted by the federal grand jury on charges of using the mails to defraud.

The oil companies involved in the indictment have taken in more than $7,000,000 in cash and into three of the companies were merged 458 companies which had sold $125,000,000 in stock. United States District attorney Henry Zweifel declared the investigation had disclosed. Approximately 2,064,000 persons were stockholders in the merged companies and the companies named in the indictment.

FRENCH FEAR OF GERMANY BLOCKS PEACE

MUST GET INSURANCE

Can't Secure It From U. S. And Britain, So Will Make It For Self.

By William Philip Simms
Special Cable to NEA Service and Bismarck Tribune

Dusseldorf, April 20.—The one big stumbling block in the way of peace in the Ruhr and in Europe is France's fear of a reconstructed Germany, again powerful and capable of annihilating France if left to face her alone.

President Wilson saw this when he agreed with Britain to stand by France in the event of unprovoked aggression on the part of Germany. Nothing short of some kind of guarantee against such a fate will ever budge France from astride the Rhine.

If Great Britain will not give it to her, nor America, nor the two together, then France will follow out a policy all her own—a "safety first" policy—from which nothing short of superior force can turn her.

That is my outstanding impression after visits to Paris, London, Berlin and the cluster of German, Pittsburgh which merge, one city into another, here in the Ruhr.

Washington, D. C., April 20.—I have means of knowing the government at Washington as well as that at London constantly is putting out feelers both in Paris and Berlin. Berlin, I know, is anxious to reach a settlement. And so is Paris. The hitch is not over the actual question of reparations, for Premier Poincare is still willing to accept $50,000,000,000 gold marks in addition to what Germany has already paid on account.

The problem which the United States and Britain have to solve, if they are to act as arbitrators in the Ruhr dispute, is how France may be secured against another German invasion.

Whatever objections Premier Poincare may have to Secretary Hughes' plan to have a commission of experts ascertain how much Germany can pay are not because he fears they would fix upon a too small sum but because the plan does not take into consideration France's national security.

One Solution
A combination of the Hughes plan to determine the question of reparations and Lord Robert Cecil's suggestion that the League of Nations work out a scheme which would satisfy France's anxiety for her own safety is not an impossibility.

But one thing is certain, France, left by her two strongest allies—America and Britain—to face Germany alone, has leaped astride the Rhine.

She is in the Ruhr, Germany's one big industrial center, without which Germany would find it very difficult to wage successful war. And there France will stay until either she can get the life insurance she is after of until she hammers out a guarantee for herself and in her own way, let anyone object who may.

LEGISLATORS SOON TO TURN TO NEW PROBE

With Tabert Investigation Nearing Close Will Investigate Senator Knabb's Camp

BOSS TELLS STORY

Higginbotham Blandly Relates How He Lashed Convicts in Lumber Camp

Tallahassee, Fla., April 20.—Legislative investigation of the death of Martin Tabert of North Dakota was rapidly drawing to a close today as two members of the committee departed for Clara, Florida, near which town Tabert is alleged to have been beaten to death while serving a 90-day sentence in a lumber camp.

The two committeemen will view the grave of Tabert. Meanwhile the investigation here has recessed until Saturday. At that time eight witnesses will be brought in by Assistant Attorney General Grimsom and Judge Kneeshaw of North Dakota.

The investigation yesterday was marked by the appearance of Walter Higginbotham, whipping boss at the camp where Tabert died, and who is under indictment for first degree murder in connection therewith. Higginbotham testified that he averaged about ten weekly punishments, had never given more than ten or twelve lashes and had not been exceptionally severe in Tabert's case.

The committee's next investigation, it is believed, will be an investigation of the camp of Senator Knabb in Baker county, where Tabert White of Washington, D. C., is alleged to have been brutally beaten.

THREATEN TO BOLT

London, April 20.—A dispatch from the Times to Dusseldorf says the unemployed council there is reported to have informed the Berlin government that unless the condition of the 30,000 unemployed is improved, they will volunteer to work for the French.

The dispatch added that it is said two Russian Bolshevik apakars at a meeting at Bochum on Tuesday advocated violent action by the unemployed.

It is asserted by the French that 25 more carloads of cereals from the Soviet government have arrived in the Ruhr.

PRAIRIE FIRES ARE REPORTED

Bad Fire is Reported South of Britain

Several prairie fires have been reported in this section in the last week. Persons traveling through the country are urged to be careful with matches and cigars and cigarettes.

Deputy Sheriff Edward Kafer reported a fire this week south of Britton, which took a trip a mile and a half long and probably five or six miles long, jumping the Soo railroad track but stopping at the Northern Pacific tracks.

A bad fire near Driscoll occurred recently. Fire also burned some prairie just south of the city today.

MUST INCREASE TAXES TO HAVE HIGH SCHOOL WORK

Mohall, N. D., April 20.—Not a single school in Beaville county now is doing high school work will be able to do so next year, and pay for it without submitting the question for an excess levy to the voters, according to Supt. J. N. Urness of this city. Only four schools in the county are doing high school work, and at least three of these will have their present tax-income for school purposes decreased by more than 25 per cent even if they allowed under the new law. Mr. Urness declares, after making a study of the situation as it exists in this country.

PROCLAMATION

The City of Bismarck, acting together with the Bismarck Association of Commerce and other associations, has designated the week of April 30 to May 5 (inclusive) as the "Clean Up and Paint Up" week for Bismarck.

During this week every citizen of Bismarck should make an effort to clean up his house and property so as to avoid fire risk; to clean up his front and back yard, to paint his premises if necessary, to abolish all places that might breed flies and mosquitoes, to eliminate dandelions, and weeds, and to help clean up vacant lots.

Citizens should not put their rubbish on the sidewalk or street, but in some kind of a receptacle—a box, can or bag. The street department is putting on extra men and teams and will collect all such refuse immediately made, citizens should telephone the department of streets and it will be given immediate attention. If all refuse is placed in such a manner so that it can be easily loaded and carted away, Bismarck will be readily cleaned.

"These are the kind of horses that bring good returns back east," Mr. Fuller declared. "They demand good, well fitted, and well conditioned horses, and will pay good prices for them but will not pay for poorly conditioned animals in the rough."

This carload was shipped to Springfield, Mass., and was accompanied by R. C. Hocking.

Many lawyers in the state are protesting against a "pay-up rule" of the State Bar Board. Lawyers must pay not only the $15 annual license fee this year but pay for years in arrears, the board decided. LEGION HEAD VISITS CITY DURING JUNE

COMMANDER GETS WORD

Mack Traynor Endeavoring to Arrange For Other Visits in State

Fargo, April 20.—Commander Alvin Owsley of the American Legion will make at least two trips in North Dakota in June on his trip east from Billings, Montana, according to Mack C. Traynor, North Dakota department commander, in a communication sent from Devils Lake today.

Commander Owsley is scheduled to arrive in Bismarck on the morning of June 14 and will spend the night there. The other stop will be at Fargo the next day.

State Commander Traynor is endeavoring to arrange visits to other North Dakota cities for the national head of the Legion before the latter resumes his trip to Minnesota and other states east.

DAUGHERTY HOLDS ACTION IN SUGAR CASE

Has Under Consideration Request for Grand Jury Indictments

SEE FURTHER SUITS

Washington, April 20.—Whether criminal prosecution by the government will file its injunction suit filed in New York yesterday to protect the public against the speculative boosting of sugar prices, rested today on the decision of Attorney-General Daugherty.

The Attorney-General, who now is at Asheville, N. C., was said officially today to have under consideration a request upon the federal grand jury in New York for criminal indictment under the conspiracy provisions of the Sherman act, of defendants named in the injunction suit to prevent future or speculative trading on the New York sugar exchange.

With the first move by the government designed to prevent further increases in raw sugar prices the criminal action to follow against defendants named in the injunction suit against the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange and the New York Coffee and Sugar clearing house association, should the Attorney-General decide the evidence warrants such procedure on conspiracy charges, would be the logical next step in the government procedure, officials explained.

In its unprecedented exchange to stop speculation on commodity exchange by invoking the conspiracy section of the anti-trust law, the government, it was said, may take another line in the civil suit. It may ask the court for an order to prevent settlement in speculative trading between brokers and customers since February, it is said, thus striking at the profits of the speculators.

FRENCH FEAR OF GERMANY BLOCKS PEACE

MUST GET INSURANCE

Can't Secure It From U. S. And Britain, So Will Make It For Self

By William Philip Simms Special Cable to NEA Service and Bismarck Tribune

Dusseldorf, April 20.—The one big stumbling block in the way of peace in the Ruhr—and in Europe—is France's fear of a reconstructed Germany, again powerful and capable of annihilating France if left to face her alone.

President Wilson saw this when he agreed with Britain to stand by France in the event of unprovoked aggression on the part of Germany. Nothing short of some kind of guarantee against such a fate will ever budge France from astride the Rhine.

If Great Britain will not give it to her, nor America, nor the two together, then France will follow out a policy all her own—a "safety first" policy—from which nothing short of superior force can turn her.

That is his outstanding impression after visits to Paris, London, Berlin and the cluster of German cities which merge, one city into another, here in the Ruhr.

Washington Busy I have means of knowing the government at Washington as well as that at London constantly is putting out feelers both in Paris and Berlin. Berlin, I know, is anxious to reach a settlement. And so is Paris. The hitch is not over the actual question of reparations, for Premier Poincare is still willing to accept $50,000,000,000 gold marks in addition to what Germany has already paid on account.

The problems which the United States and Britain have to solve, if they are to act as arbitrators in the Ruhr dispute, is how France may be secured against another German invasion.

Whatever objections Premier Poincare may have to Secretary Hughes' plan to have a commission of experts ascertain how much Germany can pay are not because he fears they would fix upon a too small sum but because the plan does not take into consideration France's national security.

One Solution A combination of the Hughes plan to determine the question of reparations and Lord Robert Cecil's suggestion that the League of Nations work out a scheme which would satisfy France's anxiety for her own safety is not an impossibility.

But one thing is certain, France, left by her two strongest allies—America and Britain—to face Germany alone, has leaped astride the Rhine.

She is in the Ruhr, Germany's one big industrial center, without which Germany would find it very difficult to wage successful war.

And there France will stay until either she can get the life insurance she is after or until she hammers out a guarantee for herself and in her own way, let anyone object who may.

AUTO-TRANSIT LAW IS FOUND NOT EFFECTIVE

Inter-city auto transportation companies will not be licensed in North Dakota before July 1.

Commissioner Fay Harding of the railroad commission today said he learned upon investigation that although house bill No. 222 carried the emergency clause on it when deposited in the secretary of state's office, it did not pass the senate by a two-thirds vote, and the emergency clause was erroneously left on the bill. In the regular course of procedure, the measure becomes effective July 1.

TWO HANGED IN MONTANA

Butte, Mont., April 20.—William and Monte Harris, convicted of the murder of Cyril Shilling, were hanged in the county jail building this morning. The trap was sprung at 3:08 o'clock and seven minutes later they were pronounced dead.

HIGHWAY BODY ELIMINATING CROSSINGS

The highway commission is taking steps to comply with federal road bureau regulations against federal aid on a primary highway having a dangerous grade crossing not protected by gates.

In addition to re-routing of the Red Train out of Fargo because of this, it is reported at the highway commission that it is proposed to change the Meridian trail so that instead of a crossing at Alton the trail will continue into Hillsboro, where the Great Northern will be crossed at a protected crossing.

PROCLAMATION

The City of Bismarck, acting together with the Bismarck Association of Commerce and other associations, has designated the week of April 30 to May 5 (inclusive) as the "Clean Up and Paint Up" week for Bismarck.

During this week every citizen of Bismarck should make an effort to clean up his house and property so as to avoid fire risk, to clean up his front and back yard, to paint his premises if necessary, to abolish all places that might breed flies and mosquitoes, to eliminate dandelions, and weeds, and to help clean up vacant lots.

Citizens should not put their rubbish on the sidewalk or street, but in some kind of receptacle—a box, can or bag. The street department is putting on extra men and teams and will collect all such. If collection is not immediately made, citizens should telephone the department of streets and it will be given immediate attention. If all refuse is placed in such a manner so that it can be easily loaded and carted away, Bismarck will be readily cleaned.

This is an opportunity for every citizen not only to show his personal pride, but also his civic pride. Bismarck is known as the City of Homes, and we should all endeavor to make it such. No city is attractive if it is dirty and littered up. All should be willing to co-operate in cleaning up not only their own premises, but in helping to clean up the premises of others where help is necessary.

Let us work together to clean up and paint up Bismarck during that week, and then keep it that way throughout the entire year and for many years to come. Let us plant grass and flowers. Let us make Bismarck not only clean, but beautiful. The result will be a cleaner, healthier, happier and more attractive city.

Muehlheim, Germany, April 20.—After being terrorized for three days by the Communist mob which held Muehlheim today again is under control of the constituted German authorities. The force of 300 German police and city officials which had been seized in the Rathaus made a sortie from this fortress-like building this morning, cut through the lines of the besiegers, caught them in the rear, arrested many and again took control of the city.

STILL HAVING TROUBLE. Berlin, April 20.—Eight persons are so far reported dead and more than 50 wounded as a result of the disturbance in Muehlheim, according to dispatches at noon which state that although the city has been freed from the Communist grip armed bands still are causing trouble in the outskirts.

It is asserted by the French that 25 more carloads of cereals from the Soviet government have arrived in the Ruhr.

PRAIRIE FIRES ARE REPORTED

Bad Fire Is Reported South of Britton

Several prairie fires have been reported in this section in the last week. Persons traveling through the country are urged to be careful with matches and cigars and cigarettes.

Deputy Sheriff Edward Kafer reported a fire this week south of Britton, which took a trip a mile and a half long and probably five or six miles long, jumping the 800 railroad track but stopping at the Northern Pacific tracks.

A bad fire near Driscoll occurred recently. Fire also burned some prairie just south of the city today.

Must Increase Taxes To Have High School Work

Mohall, N. D., April 20.—Not a single school in Renville county now offering high school work will be able to do so next year, and pay for it, without submitting the question for an excess levy to the voters, according to Supt. J. N. Urness of this city. Only four schools in the county are doing high school work, and at least three of these will have their present tax income for school purposes decreased by more than 25 per cent, even if they vote the increase of 50 per cent allowed under the new law. Mr. Urness declares, after making a study of the situation as it exists in this county.

General Weather Conditions

Low pressure, accompanied by rain, prevails over the Plains States and northeastern Rocky Mountain region. The rain was heaviest in Kansas and western North Dakota where nearly a half inch fell. Rain is also falling along the north Pacific coast. High pressure and fair weather prevails over the Plateau States. Temperatures have risen somewhat in the Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region, but it is cooler over the Plains States and Rocky Mountain region.

LEGISLATORS SOON TO TURN TO NEW PROBE

With Tabert Investigation Nearing Close Will Investigate Senator Knabb's Camp

BOSS TELLS STORY

Higginbotham Blandly Relates How He Lashed Convicts in Lumber Camp

Tallahassee, Fla., April 20.—Legislative investigation of the death of Martin Tabert of North Dakota was rapidly drawing to a close today as two members of the committee departed for Clara, Florida, near which town Tabert is alleged to have been beaten to death while serving a 90-day sentence in a lumber camp.

The two committee men will view the grave of Tabert. Meanwhile the investigation here has recessed until Saturday. At that time eight witnesses will be brought in by Assistant Attorney General Grimsom and Judge Kneeshaw of North Dakota.

The investigation yesterday was marked by the appearance of Walter Higginbotham, whipping boss at the camp where Tabert died, and who is under indictment for first degree murder in connection therewith. Higginbotham testified that he averaged about ten weekly punishments, had never given more than ten or twelve lashes and had not been exceptionally severe in Tabert's case.

The committee's next investigation, it is believed, will be an investigation of the camp of Senator Knabb in Baker county, where Paul White of Washington, D. C., is alleged to have been brutally beaten.

Boss Tells Story

Higginbotham, 55 years old, attired in a neat blue serge suit and silk shirt, came briskly into the committee room, in response to his summons. Committee members said frankly that he belied their mental pictures of him.

In giving his story Higginbotham said: "Martin Tabert was working in a section. His foreman told me Tabert was not working. He reported him Wednesday and Thursday night (preceding his death) the following Wednesday). I did not whip him then and on Friday night as I counted the men out of the dining quarters Tabert was again reported to me. I said 'alright call him out.' I got my strap and whipped him. He got up after the whipping and went into the sleeping quarters. The next day he went to work and the guards told me he died Friday night. I made convicts bathe him and put him to bed. I sent for the doctor who did not come. I sent for him again and on Monday when I came from the woods I heard that the doctor had been there. Tabert told me the doctor said for him to 'lay in bed.'"

He was asked how many blows he struck Tabert.

"About 10 or 11," he said. "Did you hit hard?"

"Yes, gently."

Higginbotham denied that he struck the boy with the butt end of the whip and testified he had seen no discoloration on his back.

PLAYGROUND STAFF HOLD FIRST MEET

Thirty-Four Volunteer Teachers Attend First Meeting At High School

MRS. KLING INSTRUCTOR

Expect to Run Three or Four Playgrounds for Children of All Ages

Bismarck's first steps in the actual organization of a staff to supervise the playgrounds during the summer months were taken last night at a meeting of 34 volunteer teachers with J. M. MacLeod and Mrs. J. Henry Kling at the high school gymnasium.

Mrs. H. F. Keller spoke briefly upon the purpose of the meeting and introduced Mrs. Kling, who outlined the history of the play staff as followed by Mr. MacLeod who took charge of arrangements for the work of the teachers.

It was decided that either two or three playgrounds with supervisors would be taken care of during the summer, and it was thought that one would be at Waechter school, one at Richholt, and one at either Willy's school or North Ward, with one general director and three or four assistants in charge of each playground.

While not definitely decided, it was thought that there would probably be a morning period of playground work from about 9 to 11 o'clock and an evening period from 7 to 9 o'clock at the different playgrounds. Classes would be held on certain days of the week to be decided later.

In order to have efficient direction at the grounds the corps of teachers who have volunteered their services for one or two days a week will be instructed in playground work by Mrs. Kling every Tuesday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. Mr. MacLeod will act as general advisor.

During the month which will be devoted to the training of the volunteer teachers definite arrangements will be made in regard to the playground schedule.

In order that none of the children of the city will be neglected, it is expected that classes will be arranged to meet the needs of all that come to the playgrounds. The older children will be instructed in games suitable for their years. To obtain the paraphernalia necessary for stocking up a playground, the citizens of Bismarck are asked to donate any tennis nets, lawn balls, or playground apparatus which they are not using and would be glad to see in use. Any woman or girl of the city who have not yet signed up to the city as instructors or supervisors of the playgrounds for a certain day of the week during the summer are asked to do so, for the larger the corps of teachers the more efficient the work which can be done during the summer and with the lighter the weight of duty resting upon the individuals.

In outlining the functions of play Mrs. Kling stated that there were three theories held regarding it: That play is the natural outlet of the surplus energy that has accumulated in a vigorous organism; that play is an instinct, the purpose of which is the education of the individual; that play is the motor habits and spirit of the past of the race persisting in the present.

"The difference between play and work is that play is always the pleasure of the activity itself, while work has always some end beyond the activity," said Mrs. Kling. In developing the idea she explained the physical and social stages in play.

The volunteer teachers attending the beginning class last night included the following:

Dorothy Moses, Mrs. C. W. Moses, Mrs. G. F. Duffam, Mrs. F. F. Hanson, Mrs. H. F. Keller, Mrs. G. D. Mann, Helen M. Will, Ethel Funston, Elizabeth Wetmore, Grace B. Tretheimer, Elizabeth Butler, Jean MacLeod, Wilma Olson, Lucille Fisher, Catherine McLaughlin, Elaine Bowman, Edna Steading, Dr. Yensley, Barbara Reister, Anna Katz, Dorothy Birdsell, Alice Larson, Era Bell Thompson, Clara Dralle, Nellie Duncie, Clara Hultberg, Mrs. Edward Bannan, and Mrs. Ralph Penner.

GRAY-HAIRED MOTHER ASKS FOR LENIENCY

Pleads for Son, Charged with Theft of $80,000 of Bank's Funds

Minneapolis, April 20.—A little gray-haired woman dressed in black stood before Judge Page Norris in federal district court here today and pleaded for leniency in the case of her son, William J. Smith, former cashier of the Minneapolis National bank, who will be sentenced Saturday for embezzlement of $80,000 of the bank's funds.

Mrs. Smith, who came here from Logansport, N. D., to plead for her son, told Judge Norris between sobs that her son was sentenced to prison his wife and her five small children would be destitute.

"If I had the means judge I would take care of the family myself, but I had to borrow funds from friends to come here," she said.

"I know it will be hard for you," Judge Norris said. "It is hard for me, too, but I am going to do it. He is a man 28 or 29 years old and there seems to be no excuse for what he has done. It seems that always the burden of guilty falls on the innocent."

Judge Norris suggested to Mrs. Smith that she go back to her home in North Dakota and not stay for the arraignment Saturday.

She replied that she intended to see her boy through.

EXPRESS RATES MAY BE LESS

Case Before Interstate Commerce Commission Is Reviewed

Express rates in North Dakota will be adjusted and slightly reduced if the interstate Commerce Commission adopts proposals of western states' utilities commissions in the nationwide express rate case now before it. V. E. Smart, traffic manager of the railroad commission, said today, following his return from the hearing in Washington.

"A committee consisting of statisticians selected from states west of Chicago and the Mississippi river presented numerous exhibits showing the discrimination between rates as they now exist, showing that western state are paying much higher rates than the eastern states, where operating expenses of the express company are very much less in the western states than in the eastern states," Mr. Smart said. "This greater expense in the eastern states is due to the larger proportion of the express business in those states receiving 'pick up' and delivery service, there being a very limited amount of this service furnished in western states."

In North Dakota there are but 12 cities where the express company is required to call for and deliver express business, Mr. Smart said. The western states' committee submitted two propositions to the Interstate Commerce Commission, both of which carry a reduction in rates of about 15 percent. One retains the present system of dividing the country into blocks for rate-making purposes; the other divides the country into blocks 50 miles square.

The interstate rates in North Dakota were increased 13 1/2 percent effective October 15, 1920, but this increase was not authorized by the state commission with respect to interstate business.

An exhibit containing a study of one day's business of the American Railways Express company's business at Bismarck was submitted to the I. C. C., showing the effect of proposed rates. The exhibit indicated that state rates will be decreased should the state commission adopt the western states' proposal if accepted by the Interstate Commerce Commission, Mr. Smart said.

New York, April 20.—The government expedition which set out from New York to discover the "Isles of Rum" returned successfully with six cases officially charted off the Jersey shore 1-2 miles east of Ambrose Channel.

When the member of the Associated Press several months ago, first reported extensive liquor smuggling off Highlands federal officers were inclined to scoff at the presence of a big liquor flight. The new prohibition director of New York decided to get first-hand information and took a party of newspaper men with him down the coast. Although he did not see a drop of liquor he was convinced there was plenty under the hatches of craft riding outside the three-mile limit.

L. W. Kummeth of Sargent County recently reported an average profit of $46.34 a cow over feed cost for three cows and two heifers. J. D. Gronna and C. W. The cheapest dairy animal to buy is the best grade cow that can be purchased at a price less than the cost of a purchased cow, Mr. Morgan suggests. Success will come if the farmer keeps records of production, if he uses a purebred sire, if he decides to expect some disappointment, if he sticks to the business for 15 years, and if he plans and manages his work carefully.

St. Louis, April 20.—Having recovered all but $20,000 of the $25,000 in securities stolen by bandits in a mail robbery here April 2, in raids in St. Louis county yesterday, police and postoffice inspectors today were questioning the nine men taken into custody in an effort to learn whether they participated in the hold-up.

The securities which were found in the home of William S. Doering, an alleged gangster, consisted mainly of non-signed federal land bank notes. Chief Postoffice Inspector Retzner said he believed Doering and Williamson, who said he was employed as a yardman by Doering, had some hand in the robbery.

There is an erroneous idea abroad. You hear it every day. "Gasoline is not as good as it used to be." The fact is that the Red Crown Gasoline you are getting today is an almost perfect fuel.

Perhaps there is no industry where progress has made such rapid strides as the refining of petroleum.

For example, we cite the Burton Process, developed and perfected in the laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). The Burton Process has enabled the refiner to bring gasoline to a point of efficiency hitherto un hoped for.

PROTESTS MADE BY LEAGUERS OVER NEW SALE

Called Betrayal of Interests by Nonpartisan Weekly Paper

Much opposition to the sale of the Fargo-Courier-News is being manifested by many Nonpartisans. John Andrews, who was editor of the Fargo-Courier-News and John H. Bloom, who was business manager, sent the following telegram to many places in the state:

"No statement was issued because opportunity was not given in Fargo-Courier-News. The sale was made without warning by holders of capital stock without our previous knowledge. It was not due to financial difficulties. The paper had no pressing obligations and met all demands. Regard sale as unfair to combined farmer-labor forces of this state who may be assured a daily will be provided that cannot be sold out under them."

(Signed),
JOHN ANDREWS,
JOHN H. BLOOM.

The Farmer-Labor Record of Bismarck, a weekly paper, says under a heading "Sale of Fargo-Courier-News bears evidence of a betrayal of the farmers and workers of state," that no notice of the impending deal was given the editor and manager of the Fargo-Courier-News.

The paper further says: Several months ago two of the self-constituted leaders of the Nonpartisan League, who controlled a large percentage of the stock of the Fargo-Courier-News, attempted to sell the property, but after a heated session in Fargo they returned to Minneapolis very much crestfallen at their inability to deliver the property over to the enemies of the farmer-labor forces.

That they never gave up the idea, but put through the deal secretly is now evident. That several prominent supporters of the farmers' movement were fooled into a financial situation where they were absolutely helpless to prevent the sale of the property is evident by events that have happened recently and which will soon be known to the farmers and workers of the state.

The paper concludes that one of the new owners of the Fargo-Courier-News is proprietor of a printing plant which is operated as a nonpartisan concern.

The telegram of Bloom and Andrews was sent to many Nonpartisan weekly papers in the state, in many of them to comment editorially this week.

The new Fargo Tribune company was incorporated for $100,000. Norman Black, publisher of The Forum, is a brother of the vice president of Walker Brothers.

According to the Fargo Forum, William Lemke, who held the Fargo-Courier-News Associated Press franchise in his own name, protested against the sale.

RESISTANCE IN IRELAND DWINDLING

Peace, However, Held to Depend on Manner in Which Fighting Terminates

Dublin, April 20.—It is generally recognized that the armed opposition to the Free State is almost at an end but the prospects of permanent peace, many influential persons believe, depends on the manner in which the resistance is terminated.

To allow it to fizzle out, becoming daily less effective, might, it is feared, involve months of costly spy-moder disturbances and promote in the defeated an enduring bitterness that might find an outlet in assassinations.

Such a procedure would also involve the detention of more than 10,000 prisoners and the consequent disaffection of their friends and relatives throughout Ireland. Moreover, until the last vestige of opposition is stamped out it will be necessary to maintain the Free State army at close to 50,000 men with an annual cost of over 10,000,000 pounds.

Both the Unionist and the Nationalist press manifest a belief that some plan should be found which would end the conflict and give Ireland a chance to settle down to work.

Only Ways and Means Remain to be Solved

St. Paul, April 20.—The plan to combine all cooperative rural marketing associations in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Montana as outlined at the recent meetings in Fargo, N. Reed, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, announced today.

The board of directors which will have supervisory powers over the marketing combinations were to meet today in Minneapolis to perfect the working program, Mr. Reed announced.

"A Front Page Story" is One That Depicts City Life in United States.

Stories of American life are winning the praise of critics of literature not only in this United States, but abroad. Writers have been seeking to capture the true spirit of this nation of one hundred and twenty millions of people, and some of them have succeeded. The translation of American novels to the screen has been accomplished with varying results, but no motion picture has been presented in the last ten years that so surely portrays American life than "A Front Page Story," which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre tonight.

This latest production of Jess Robbins, director of "Two Much Business" and "The Ladies' Man," reveals a knowledge of actual life that few novelists have achieved. Each character in the story moves with remarkable humaneness across the screen; they are the people you know, the people with whom you must have rubbed elbows if you are an American.

DOROTHY GISH PLAYS LEAD TO BARTHELMESS

Richard Barthelmess seems to have a penchant that calls for a new leading lady in each succeeding picture that he makes. At least, during the past year this has been the case, but even so, none can deny that Barthelmess has mighty good taste in choosing feminine support. His latest selection is the sprightly and charming Dorothy Gish, who will be seen with him in his new feature, "Fury" which shows at the Eltinge theatre, today and tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

Miss Gish has the role of a little boarding house slave in Limehouse, London, with whom Barthelmess, as the bashful second mate of a four-masted schooner, falls in love. She is said to give one of her most appealing delineations.

The elegant plans of "Boy! Leyton and Minnie are spoiled, however, by the death of the lad's father, the captain. Before dying Captain Leyton gets his son to promise vengeance against the man who had wronged his mother before he weds Minnie. The bashfulness of "Boy" completely disappears and he becomes the central figure of a great romance and adventure of the sea.

RESISTANCE IN IRELAND DWINDLING

Peace, However, Held to Depend on Manner in Which Fighting Terminates

Dublin, April 20.—It is generally recognized that the armed opposition to the Free State is almost at an end but the prospects of permanent peace, many influential persons believe, depends on the manner in which the resistance is terminated.

To allow it to fizzle out, becoming daily less effective, might, it is feared, involve months of costly spasmodic disturbances and promote in the defeated an enduring bitterness that might find an outlet in assassinations.

Such a procedure would also involve the detention of more than 10,000 prisoners and the consequent disaffection of their friends and relatives throughout Ireland. Moreover, until the last vestige of opposition is stamped out it will be necessary to maintain the Free State army at close to 50,000 men with an annual cost of over 10,000,000 pounds.

Both the Unionist and the Nationalist press manifest a belief that some plan should be found which would end the conflict and give Ireland a chance to settle down to work.

Only Ways and Means Remain to be Solved

St. Paul, April 20.—The plan to combine all co-operative grain marketing associations in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Montana as outlined at the recent meetings in Fargo, N. Reed, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, announced today.

"A Front Page Story" Is One That Depicts City Life in United States.

Stories of American life are winning the praise of critics of literature not only in the United States, but abroad. Writers have been seeking to capture the true spirit of this nation of one hundred and twenty millions of people, and some of them have succeeded. The translation of American novels to the screen has been accomplished with varying results, but no motion picture has been presented in the last ten years that so surely portrays American life than "A Front Page Story," which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre tonight.

This latest production of Jess Robbins, director of "Two Much Business" and "The Lodger Jinx," reveals a knowledge of rural life that few novelists have achieved. Each character in the story moves with remarkable humanness across the screen; they are the people you know, the people with whom you must have rubbed elbows if you are an American.

DOROTHY GISH PLAYS

LEAD TO BARTHELMESS
Richard Barthelmess seems to have a penchant that calls for a new leading lady in each succeeding picture that he makes. At least, during the past year this has been the case, but even so, none can deny that Barthelmess has mighty good taste in choosing feminine support. His latest selection is the sprightly and charming Dorothy Gish, who will be seen with him in his new feature, "Fury" which shows at the Eltinge theatre, today and tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

Miss Gish has the role of a little boarding house slave in Limehouse, London, with whom Barthelmess, as the bashful second mate of a four-masted schooner, falls in love. She is said to give one of her most appealing delineations.

The eloquent plans of "Boy" Leyton and Minnie are spoiled, however, by the death of the lad's father, the captain. Before dying Captain Leyton gets his son to promise vengeance against the man who had wronged his mother before he weds Minnie. The bashfulness of "Boy" completely disappears and he becomes the central figure of a great romance and adventure of the sea.

Others in the cast are Tyrone Power, Pat Hartigan, Barry Macollum and Jessie Arnold.

New York, April 20.—Archibald M. Maddock, president of the Thomas Maddock Sons company of Trenton, N. J., penitentiary and pay a fine of $5,000.

Seven other defendants described by Judge Van Fleet as members of the executive committee of the Sanitary Pottery association and active participants in its price-fixing operations were given sentences of six months imprisonment in the Essex county penitentiary and fine of $5,000.

Counsel in the case estimated the trial will continue from one to two months.

GRAY-HAIRED MOTHER ASKS FOR LENIENCY

Leads for Son, Charged with Theft of $80,000 of Bank's Funds

Grand Forks, April 20.—A little gray-haired woman, dressed in black and before Judge Page Norris in federal district court here today and asked for leniency in the case of her son, William J. Smith, former cashier of the Minneapolis National bank, who will be sentenced Saturday for embezzlement of $80,000 of the bank's funds.

Mr. Smith, who came here from Grand Forks, N. D., to plead for her son, Judge Morris between sobs that her son was sentenced to prison by the court and her two small children would be destitute.

"If I had the means judge I would take care of the family myself, but had to borrow funds from friends to come here," she said.

"I know it will be hard for you," Judge Morris said. "It is hard for me, too, but I am going to do it. He is a man 28 or 29 years old and there ought to be no excuse for what he has done. It seems that always the children of guilty fathers are innocent."

Judge Morris suggested to Mr. Smith that he go back to her home in North Dakota and not stay for the arraignment Saturday.

She replied that she intended to see her boy through.

EXPRESS RATES MAY BE LESS

Case Before Interstate Commerce Commission Is Reviewed

Express rates in North Dakota will be adjusted and slightly reduced if the Interstate Commerce Commission adopts proposals of western states' utilities commissions in the nationwide express rate case now before it, V. E. Smart, traffic manager of the railroad commission, today, following his return from the hearing in Washington.

A committee consisting of statisticians selected from states west of Chicago and the Mississippi river presented numerous exhibits showing the discrimination between rates as they now exist, showing that western states are paying much higher rates than the eastern states, whereas operating expenses of the express company are very much less in the western states than in the eastern states," Mr. Smart said. "The greater expense in the eastern states is due to the larger proportion of the express business in those states receiving 'pick up' and delivery service, there being a very limited amount of this service furnished in western states."

In North Dakota there are but 12 cities where the express company is required to call for and deliver express business, Mr. Smart said. The western states committee submitted two propositions to the Interstate Commerce Commission, both of which carry a reduction in rates of about 15 percent. One retains the present system of dividing the country into blocks for rate-making purposes; the other divides the country into blocks 50 miles square. The interstate rates in North Dakota were increased 13 1/2 percent effective October 1, 1920, but this increase was not authorized by the state commission with respect to interstate business.

An exhibit containing a study of one day's business of the American Railway Express company's business at Bismarck was submitted to the I. C. C., showing the effect of proposed rates. The exhibit indicated that state rates will be decreased should the state commission adopt the western state's proposal if accepted by the Interstate Commerce Commission, Mr. Smart said.

SECOND PLANE SENT TO HELP MAROONED FOLK

Detroit, April 20.—Lieut. Although he did not see a drop of liquor he was convinced there was plenty under the hatches of craft riding outside the three-mile limit.

The cheapest dairy animal to buy is the best grade cow that can be purchased at a price less than the cost of a purebred cow, Mr. Morgan suggests. Success will come if the farmer keeps records of production, if he uses a purebred sire, if he decides to expect some disappointment, if he sticks to the business for 15 years, and if he plans and manages his work carefully.

The securities which were found in the home of William S. Doering, an alleged gangster, consisted mainly of non-signed federal land bank notes. THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

THIS SUMMER

We've been having queer weather lately in most parts of the United States. And we may be in for a queer, unseasonal summer. The Weather Bureau in Washington reports that 1922 was the sixth year in succession with temperatures generally above normal east of the Rocky Mountains. Since nature in the long run keeps the average yearly temperature finely balanced, the reaction from these six abnormally warm years may be an abnormally cold year.

Will it come in 1923—a cold summer?
A cold summer is due, but probably not until about 1926, in line with the climax of the "55-year cycle."

Go back two cycles (110 years) from 1926 and you have 1816, "the year without a summer. Snow fell and ice formed in July in many of the northern states, and seed corn in 1816 sold as high as $4 a bushel," Herbert J. Browne writes in Henry Ford's Dearborn Independent.

Browne quotes from the diary of Charles Peirce of Philadelphia: "August, 1816—Cheerless and cold. Northeast rains. Ice one-half-inch thick. Indian corn frozen."

While 1816 was extraordinarily cold, it was merely one of the "summerless years" that come periodically. The Black Sea and the Dardanelles have been frozen over within recorded history. And in the year 1384 even the Adriatic froze.

One thing that helped make 1816 very cold, Browne writes, was the explosion of a huge volcano in the Dutch East Indies in 1815. Fine volcanic dust spread through the atmosphere all over the earth, excluding much sunlight the following year, 1816.

There was, of course, no such catastrophe in 1922, and that will help keep the summer of 1923 normally warm.

Another thing favorable to a warm summer this year is the fact that the Arctic Ocean, which has a tremendous determining influence on our weather, has been exceptionally warm this winter.

Freakish conditions in the northland are reported by the American consul at Bergen, Norway. He says the cold water fish have flocked northward. Ice caps in the arctic are retreating. In Greenland glaciers are melting and exposing ground that had been covered by ice always within the memory of the oldest inhabitants.

The scientific evidence, coupled with precedent, indicates that the summer of 1923 probably will be a warm one, and that the weather will even itself up by sending us a cold summer about 1926—though possibly sooner.

MOVIE WEALTH

Ruth Roland is said to be the richest of the movie stars. This is the talk around Hollywood, where she is believed to be worth a trifle of three million dollars. Ten years ago she was buying a $750 lot in Los Angeles on the installment plan—$10 down and $10 a week.

A lot of the talk about the fabulous wealth of movie actors, of course, is press-agent bunk. But the stars unquestionably are not on the road to the poorhouse, you'll reflect as you ponder some of their evidences of wealth:

Mary Pickford and "Doug" live in a palace on an estate at Beverly Hills, Calif., valued at $350,000. Charles Chaplin has a $100,000 home. Anita Stewart's Los Angeles home is worth $125,000, which she rents at $1000 a month and lives in a bungalow.

What do they do with their money? The richest, Ruth Roland, is understood to prefer endowment insurance, but the insurance people turn her down as a "bad risk" on account of her dangerous stunts.

Tom Mix and Bill Heart own big ranches.

Most of the stars say they have wisely salted their surplus funds in reliable bonds. Mary Pickford is rumored to have a million and a half in Liberties. Harold Lloyd, soon to be millionaire, likes railroad bonds.

As a side-line, some of the he-stars breed prize animals—goats, dogs, cattle and terriers.

Petty soft, pretty soft!

The big incomes of the movie stars are made possible by what business men call "quantity production." A picture can be displayed simultaneously in a thousand movie theaters, each spectator paying a profit to the star, whereas even the greatest actress on the legitimate stage is limited to audiences averaging only a few thousand paid admissions each.

Henry Ford works on a similar principle of quantity production. So do the phonograph makers, and so on.

Wealth in the movies, however, is a reflection of the other phases of life—a very few get huge incomes, and these are the lures for the millions struggling to reach the same goal.

Foolish young girls without talent who lose their mental balance when they read about the millionaire movie stars should remember that where there is one wealthy star there are hundreds or even thousands of "supes" who are barely managing to get by—and who never will get higher.

SPORT

Tom Lawson, famous stock market operator of "frenzied finance" fame, advertises that he "must have money." So he offers to sell his best auto, saying, "As I am completely out of cigars for summer smoking, I will take $500 $1 cigars in lieu of cash."

There's a sport for you. In the same situation, most of us would be wearing a face a foot long. Lawson doesn't, so he'll probably soon come back and not have to trade pet cars for cigar money. Troubles cling to us when we take them too seriously. What's the difference, in another hundred years?

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

NOT JUST GOOD CREAM, BUT THE BEST

W. R. Reynolds, dairy commissioner of North Dakota, is one of the militant advocates of the Northwest of a better balanced farming, and particularly that phase of diversification which is an incident of dairying. Mr. Reynolds, however, does not stop with this general counsel of a more varied agricultural industry. He is a persistent special pleader for the best quality of cream, and therefore of the best butter, that can be produced.

In this advice Mr. Reynolds appeals not so much to the pride of the producers as to their sense of sound economics. He contends that it pays to send to the creameries for butter-making a No. 1 instead of a No. 2 or a still lower grade of cream. In this contention he is supported by actual commercial experience. Convincing testimony is at hand in his own state of North Dakota, in Minnesota dairy regions and elsewhere.

He is for cream that is uncompromisingly sweet and clean; for cream that has not been frozen; for cream that is high in its content of solid butterfat. In order to encourage the production and delivery of that kind of cream he believes that prices paid for cream should be graded according to quality standards established on a scientific and reasonable basis. It is not right nor is it economic good policy, in his judgment, that the producer of inferior cream should receive for his output the same as the producer of No. 1 cream gets.

It is by placing a premium on the delivery of good cream, and thereby stimulating the output of that kind of product, that any given dairy community acquires in the choice butter markets of the country a trade name that spells the difference between mere profit and greater profit between community prosperity and greater community prosperity. There isn't any theory in this, but demonstrated fact emerging from experience.

Mr. Reynolds is making headway with his doctrine for the simple reason that the intelligent dairyman of North Dakota sees the point and is acting increasingly on it as a matter of sound economics. These dairymen understand that price based on grade is quite as logical with reference to cream as it is with reference to wheat, beef or eggs. The premium price system elevates the dairying plane and stimulates in the industry an interest that is not created elsewhere. Not mere diversified farming, and not mere dairying, but the best example of both—that is the goal the progress toward which is measured accurately in terms of profit and prosperity.

The Tribune congratulates Mr. Reynolds on the service he is rendering to the farmers of his state. Missionary work of the kind he is doing projects its influence beyond the bounds of North Dakota. The gospel he preaches goes far beyond the best example of both—that is the goal the progress toward which is measured accurately in terms of profit and prosperity.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

After the battle in Bing-Bang Land there were many things to be done. Nancy helped to gather up the wounded tin soldiers, and when the wooden soldiers had them all carefully piled up in the ambulance, she got up on the driver's seat and drove the ambulance back to the Red Cross Hospital.

After that she helped to put splints on broken arms and legs, mend broken heads, put plasters on shoulders and shins, and make herself generally useful.

The Tinker Man said she was the best Red Cross nurse he had ever seen.

Out on the battle field the wooden army was marching their tin soldier prisoners back to prison, General Nick at their head.

Suddenly there was a loud explosion up in the air.

Everybody had forgotten the soldier who had gone up in the balloon to watch the enemy, but now they saw him coming down head first out of the sky.

And as his head was heavier than his feet, his hat being so large, his head stayed down.

He fell right into the river with a splash and disappeared completely, and as he did not come up again, it was altogether likely he was sticking in the mud at the bottom.

"Quick!" cried Nick. "The submarine!"

Nothing could be seen of the underwater boat but the periscope sticking up like a stove pipe, for whatever happens, that part of a submarine—how it disappears for a minute, unless the enemy shoots it off.

The captain of the submarines must have been looking through the periscope and noticed the excitement, for the boat came to the top of the water at once and opened its lid.

Five wooden soldiers rushed to the shore and jumped in. Then the submarine closed its lid again and sank under the waves.

"They'll get him," said Nick to Colonel Stiff Leg.

"Perhaps they will and perhaps they won't," replied the Colonel. "They forgot to take a diving suit along."

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN
PRESCOTT, NEWLYWED, TO HIS BACHELOR FRIEND,
SYDNEY CARTON

DEAR SYD:
I wanted to have a talk with you before I left, but you know how rushed we all were.

I tried to explain to Leslie that my second marriage would be a quiet one.

Isn't it strange, Syd, that women have no sense of humor. She didn't see the joke of that remark. Her great eyes filled with tears and she asked me plaintively, "Jack, you couldn't marry any other woman if I should die or go out of your life?" Of course I said, "No, dearest, I couldn't. Don't you see I was joking?" when I wanted to say, "I don't know whether I would or not. Other men have been married more than once, you know."

Syd, I wonder how long it takes for people to be married before they can be perfectly honest with each other.

Leslie is a wonderful girl, and we are perfectly happy—I am finding out, however, that my wife is very sensitive. The other night in the hotel there was a very fascinating looking widow whom I made the mistake of admiring to Leslie. I wish you could have heard my wife lay her out. The poor woman had done nothing except smile at me once or twice.

I guess, Syd, I have got to mind my "P's and Q's" from now on. You know I wouldn't hurt Leslie for the world.

I can't help thinking what a terrible thing it would have been if I had taken your advice and made a confession to Leslie of the little lie. She might have forgiven me but, Syd, she never would have forgotten and worse, I feel sure she would have never allowed me to forget. I tell you, I am going to play the game straight from now on. It isn't going to be easy, old chap, because, as I told you before, Leslie, I am quite sure, has a jealous complex.

Did you see my mother after the wedding? I hope she got over her annoyance at not being the central figure in the whole business.

Mother is a dear woman, Syd, but I must say she thinks mighty well of herself. She thought it very strange that Leslie and I did not visit her on our wedding trip, and, of course, laid it all to Leslie when nothing could have induced me to have made a visit to her at this time. I am mighty glad that Leslie and I are going to live far away from the whole maddening crowd of relatives. Without them Leslie and I will be perfectly happy.

Syd, you will never be as happy as I am until you have married the most wonderful girl in all the world and that you can never do because she is my wife.

I had intended writing you what the old man said to me. I did not fool him at all. He's got my number all right. Will tell you about it the next time I write. Here comes Leslie.

JACK.

Now, a Quick Quaker Oats
Cooks in 3 to 5 minutes
The quickest cooking oats in the world

Now your grocer has Quaker Oats in two styles. One the kind you have always known—the other is Quick Quaker.

Quick Quaker cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes. And it cooks to perfection. So it is almost like a ready-cooked dish.

No other oat flakes on the market cook anywhere near so quickly.

The two styles are identical in quality and flavor. Both are flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, flaky oats. A bushel of choice oat rolls but ten pounds of the Quick Quaker.

But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Ask for Quick Quaker if you want the style your grocer has both. But always get Quaker Oats for their delightful flavor.

"2000 Miles of Startling Beauty"

W. A. McDonald Agent Bismarck, N. D.

I Owe My Beauty Largely to this white super-clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My youthful beauty is the marvel of millions. My complexion is as soft and rosy as 10 years ago. Not a line or wrinkle mars it. I could easily pass for 19. On the stage I still play young girls' parts.

Scores of my friends have secured like results by the methods I employ. They have multiplied their beauty and kept their youthful bloom. So I am convinced that women in general can do what I have done. And I am going to help them if they wish.

I have arranged to supply to actual users everywhere the very best I know. They have proved themselves the best helps in existence. Now I want them to bring to millions what they brought to me.

My 20-year Clay

The chief reason for my youthful beauty is the use of facial clay. Not the crude and muddy clays so many use today, but a white, refined clay, wonderfully perfected. It is the final result of 20 years of scientific study.

Famous beauties have used clays for ages. That's what made them famous. But only in late years has clay been really studied. Countless tests and analyses have proved what clay is best—a certain rare clay, mineral laden.

Ways have been found to refine it, to remove the useless mud. The clay I use is white and clean and dainty. And science has found some added factors which bring multiplied results.

Any clay user will be amazed at the difference when she compares my Youth Clay with the old kinds.

You Must Use Clay

Clay is essential to beauty at its best. Also to continued youth. No woman who omits it can hope to compare with women who employ it. Every woman must use clay in justice to herself.

Clay purges the skin of all that clogs the pores—the causes of sal low skin, blackheads and blemishes. It reduces enlarged pores, firms the skin, combats lines and wrinkles. It brings beauty of texture and contour.

It draws the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result is that so y afternoon which every user knows.

The results are almost unbelievable at first. In a few minutes one seems to drop ten years. New bloom and beauty comes. And continued use brings what it brought me—decades of added youth.

Don't neglect your clay. A glance will tell in any crowd the users and non-users. But ordinary clays will never show you what a clay can do. To every woman my White Youth Clay will be a revelation.

Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay is now supplied by all druggists and toilet goods dealers. Price, 50c and $1 per tube. Also my Youth Cream based on lemon and strawberries. This should follow the clay. Also my Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. Also my Hair Youth, which brought my luxuriant hair. My Beauty Book comes with each.

Go try my Youth Clay in fairness to yourself. If the first tube fails to amaze and delight you, your dealer will return the price.

Give Shower for Mrs. Austin Reid

Miss Pauline Lobach of 519 Ninth street gave a miscellaneous shower last evening complimentary to Mrs. Austin Reid, a bride of the season. The evening was spent by the young women in sewing on a breakfast set for the honor guest. Covers were laid for twelve guests in the dining room when luncheon was served. A large bowl of roses and sweet peas formed a centerpiece on the table. Jonquills were used for decorations in the Lobach home. The gifts which were presented to Mrs. Reid were contained in an inverted parasol suspended above the dining room table.

Large Crowd at Farewell Banquet

A large crowd gathered at Baker's hall last evening and spent a social time in honor of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Worst, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Lund, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Liessman, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tanager, all of whom expect to leave Bismarck sometime in the next few weeks.

There will probably not be a representative from the Bismarck order.

The "Marathon" was a national drive for members in the order. Its success is to be celebrated by a great pageant in which 1,000 will participate and in which world events and the history of the W. B. A. for the last 30 years will be portrayed.

After the meeting refreshments were served. The future meetings of the W. B. A. will be held in the new Baker hall.

Now, a Quick Quaker Oats

Cooks in 3 to 5 minutes
The quickest cooking oats in the world

Now your grocer has Quaker Oats in two styles. One the kind you have always known—the other is Quick Quaker.

Quick Quaker cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes, and it cooks to perfection. So it is almost like a ready-cooked dish.

No other oat flakes on the market cook anywhere near so quickly.

The two styles are identical in quality and flavor. Both are flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, flaky oats. A bushel of choice oats yields but ten pounds of these delicious flakes.

But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Ask for Quick Quaker if you want this style. Your grocer has both. But always get Quaker Oats for their delightful flavor.

I Owe My Beauty
Largely to this white super-clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My youthful beauty is the marvel of millions. My complexion is as soft and rosy as 10 years ago. Not a line or wrinkle mars it. I could easily pass for 19. On the stage I still play young girls' parts.

Scores of my friends have secured like results by the methods I employ. They have multiplied their beauty and kept their youthful bloom. So I am convinced that women in general can do what I have done. And I am going to help them if they wish.

I have arranged to supply to dealers everywhere the very helps I use. They have proved themselves the best helps in existence. Now I want them to bring to millions what they brought to me.

My 20-year Clay
The chief reason for my youthful beauty is the use of facial clay. Not the crude and muddy clays so many use today, but a white, refined clay, wonderfully perfected. It is the final result of 20 years of scientific study.

Famous beauties have used clays for ages. That's what made them famous. But only in late years has clay been really studied. Countless tests and analyses have proved what clay is best—a certain rare clay, mineral-laden.

Ways have been found to refine it, to remove the useless mud. The clay I use is white and clean and dainty. And science has found some added factors which bring multiplied results.

Any clay user will be amazed at the difference when she compares my Youth Clay with the old kinds.

Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay is now supplied by all druggists and toilet goods dealers. Price, 50c and $1 per tube. Also my Youth Cream, based on lemon and strawberry. This should follow the clay. Also my Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. Also my Hair Youth, which brought my luxuriant hair. My Beauty Book comes with each.

Go try my Youth Clay in fairness to yourself. If the first tube fails to amaze and delight you, your dealer will return the price.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

THIS SUMMER

We've been having queer weather lately in most parts of the United States. And we may be in for a queer, unseasonal summer. The Weather Bureau in Washington reports that 1922 was the sixth year in succession with temperatures generally above normal east of the Rocky Mountains. Since nature in the long run keeps the average yearly temperature finely balanced, the reaction from these six abnormally warm years may be an abnormally cold year.

Will it come in 1923—a cold summer?
A cold summer is due, but probably not until about 1926, in line with the climax of the "55-year cycle."

Go back two cycles (110 years) from 1926 and you have 1816, "the year without a summer. Snow fell and ice formed in July in many of the northern states, and seed corn in 1816 sold as high as $4 a bushel," Herbert J. Browne writes in Henry Ford's Dearborn Independent.

Browne quotes from the diary of Charles Peirce of Philadelphia: "August, 1816—Cheerless and cold. Northeast rains. Ice one-half-inch thick. Indian corn frozen."

While 1816 was extraordinarily cold, it was merely one of the "summerless years" that come periodically. The Black Sea and the Dardanelles have been frozen over within recorded history. And in the year 1384 even the Adriatic froze.

One thing that helped make 1816 very cold, Browne writes, was the explosion of a huge volcano in the Dutch East Indies in 1815. Fine volcanic dust spread through the atmosphere all over the earth, excluding much sunlight the following year, 1816.

There was, of course, no such catastrophe in 1922, and that will help make the summer of 1923 normally warm.

Another thing favorable to a warm summer this year is the fact that the Arctic Ocean, which has a tremendous determining influence on our weather, has been exceptionally warm this winter.

Freakish conditions in the northland are reported by the American consul at Bergen, Norway. He says the cold water fish have flocked northward. Ice caps in the arctic are retreating. In Greenland glaciers are melting and exposing ground that had been covered by ice always within the memory of the oldest inhabitants.

The scientific evidence, coupled with precedent, indicates that the summer of 1923 probably will be a warm one, and that the weather will even itself up by sending us a cold summer about 1926—though possibly sooner.

MOVIE WEALTH

Ruth Roland is said to be the richest of the movie stars. This is the talk around Hollywood, where she is believed to be worth a trifle of three million dollars. Ten years ago she was buying a $750 lot in Los Angeles on the installment plan—$10 down and $10 a week.

A lot of the talk about the fabulous wealth of movie actors, of course, is press-agent bunk. But the stars unquestionably are not on the road to the poorhouse, you'll reflect as you ponder some of their evidences of wealth:

Mary Pickford and "Doug" live in a palace on an estate at Beverly Hills, Calif., valued at $350,000. Charles Chaplin has a $100,000 home. Anita Stewart's Los Angeles home is worth $125,000, which she rents at $1000 a month and lives in a bungalow.

What do they do with their money? The richest, Ruth Roland, is understood to prefer endowment insurance, but the insurance people turn her down as a "bad risk" on account of her dangerous stunts.

Tom Mix and Bill Heart own big ranches. Most of the stars say they have wisely salted their surplus funds in reliable bonds. Mary Pickford is rumored to have a million and a half in Liberties. Harold Lloyd, soon to be millionaire, likes railroad bonds.

As a side-line, some of the he-stars breed prize animals—goats, dogs, cattle and terriers.

Petty soft, pretty soft!

The big incomes of the movie stars are made possible by what business men call "quantity production." A picture can be displayed simultaneously in a thousand movie theaters, each spectator paying a profit to the star, whereas even the greatest actress on the legitimate stage is limited to audiences averaging only a few thousand paid admissions each.

Henry Ford works on a similar principle of quantity production. So do the phonograph makers, and so on.

Wealth in the movies, however, is a reflection of the other phases of life—a very few get huge incomes, and these are the lures for the millions struggling to reach the same goal.

Foolish young girls without talent who lose their mental balance when they read about the millionaire movie stars should remember that where there is one wealthy star there are hundreds or even thousands of "supes" who are barely managing to get by—and who never will get higher.

SPORT

Tom Lawson, famous stock market operator of "frenzied finance" fame, advertises that he "must have money." So he offers to sell his best auto, saying, "As I am completely out of cigars for summer smoking, I will take 5000 $1 cigars in lieu of cash."

There's a sport for you. In the same situation, most of us would be wearing a face a foot long. Lawson doesn't, so he'll probably soon come back and not have to trade pet cars for cigar money. Troubles cling to us when we take them too seriously. What's the difference, in another hundred years?

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

NOT JUST GOOD CREAM, BUT THE BEST

W. R. Reynolds, dairy commissioner of North Dakota, is one of the militant advocates of the Northwest of a better balanced farming, and particularly that phase of diversification when an incident of dairying. Mr. Reynolds, however, does not stop with this general counsel of a more varied agricultural industry. He is a persistent special pleader for the best quality of cream, and therefore of the best butter, that can be produced.

In this advice Mr. Reynolds appears not so much to the pride of the producers as to their sense of sound economics. He contends that it pays to send to the creameries for butter-making a No. 1 instead of a No. 2 or a still lower grade of cream. In this contention he is supported by actual commercial experience. Convincing testimony is at hand in his own state of North Dakota, in Minnesota dairy regions and elsewhere.

He is for cream that is unpromisingly sweet and clean, far from the cream that has been frozen for years, that is high in its content of first-rate butterfat. In order to encourage the production and delivery of that kind of cream he believes that prices paid for cream should be graded according to quality standards established on a scientific and reasonable basis. It is not right nor is it economic good policy, in his judgment, that the producer of inferior cream should receive for his output the same as the producer of No. 1 cream gets.

It is by placing a premium on the delivery of good cream, and thereby stimulating the output of that kind of product, that any given dairy community acquires in the choice butter markets of the country a trade name that spells the difference between mere profit and greater profit, between common community prosperity and greater community prosperity. There isn't any theory in this, but demonstrated fact emerging from experience.

Mr. Reynolds is making headway with his doctrine for the simple reason that the intelligent dairymen of North Dakota see the point and are acting increasingly on it as a matter of sound business economy. These dairymen understand that price based on grade is quite as logical with reference to cream as it is with reference to wheat, beef or else.

The premium price system elevates the dairying plane and stimulates in the industry an interest that is not created elsewhere. Not mere diversified farming, and not mere dairying, but the best of both, toward the goal of the progress toward which is measured accurately in terms of profit and prosperity.

The Tribune congratulates Mr. Reynolds on the service he is rendering to the farmers of his state. Missionary work of the kind he is doing projects its influence beyond the bounds of North Dakota. The gospel he preaches goes far beyond the reach of the pocketbook. Minneapolis Tribune.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

After the battle in Bing-Bang Land there were many things to be done. Nancy helped to gather up the wounded soldiers, and when the wooden soldiers had them all carefully piled up in the ambulance, she got up on the driver's seat and drove the ambulance back to the Red Cross Hospital.

After that she helped to put splints on broken arms and legs, mend broken heads, put plasters on shoulders and shins, and make herself generally useful.

The Timber Man said she was the best Red Cross nurse he had ever seen.

Out on the battle field the wooden army was marching their tin soldier prisoners back to prison. General Nick at their head.

Suddenly there was a loud explosion up on the hill.

Everybody had forgotten the soldier who had gone up in the balloon to watch the enemy, but now they saw him coming down head first out of the sky.

And as his head was heavier than his feet, his hat being so large, he fell right into the river with a splash and disappeared completely, and as he did not come up again, it was altogether likely he was sticking in the mud at the bottom.

"Quick!" cried Nick. "The submarine!"

Nothing could be seen of the under-water boat but the peggypop sticking up like a stove pipe, for whatever happens, that part of a submarine-boat never disappears for a minute, unless the enemy shoots it off.

The captain of the submarine must have been looking through the periscope and noticed the excitement for the boat came to the top of the water at once and opened its lid.

Five wooden soldiers rushed to the shore and jumped in. Then the submarine closed its lid again and sank under the waves.

"They've got him," said Nick to Colonel Stiff Leg.

"Perhaps they will and perhaps they won't," replied the Colonel. "They forgot to take a diving suit along."

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESIDENT, NEWLYWED, TO HIS BACHELOR FRIEND, SYDNEY CARTON

DEAR SYD:

I wanted to have a talk with you before I left, but you know how rushed we all were. I tried to explain to Leslie that my second marriage would be a quiet one.

Isn't it strange, Syd, that women have no sense of humor? She didn't see the joke of that remark. Her great eyes filled with tears and she asked me plaintively, "Jack, you couldn't marry any other woman if I should die or go out of your life?" Of course I said, "No, dearest, I couldn't." Don't you see I was joking?" when I wanted to say, "I don't know whether I would or not. Other men have been married more than once, you know."

Syd, I wonder how long it takes for people to be married before they can be perfectly honest with each other.

Leslie is a wonderful girl, and we are perfectly happy—I am finding out, however, that my wife is very sensitive. The other night in the hotel there was a very fascinating looking widow whom I made the mistake of admiring to Leslie.

I wish you could have heard my wife lay her out. The poor woman had done nothing, except smile at me once or twice.

I guess, Syd, I have got to mind my "P's and Q's" from now on. You know I wouldn't hurt Leslie for the world.

celebrate his 21st birthday. The evening was delightfully passed with music and dancing. Refreshments consisted of sandwiches, cake and coffee, ice cream with raspberries and peanuts and candy.

Howard Brownell has hired Marvin Swanson to help him with the farm work during the busy season.

Clifford and Floyd Martini of Bradock attended the party at the J. S. Swanson home on Saturday evening.

A fine gold watch was given to Edward by his parents, besides other valuable gifts received. The guests departed in the small hours wishing Edward many more happy birthdays.

J. S. Swanson returned from Bismarck last Wednesday, where he had attended the assessors' meeting.

The Women's Nonpartisan club will meet at the W. H. Brownell home Friday afternoon, April 27. All cordially welcome.

CONCERT HERE IS APPLAUDED

Many Enjoy Hallowell Musical Program Given at Auditorium

The varied program given by the Hallowell Musical company was received with enthusiastic applause by a large audience at the Auditorium last night.

The spectators began to arrive at the auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. By 8 o'clock almost the entire downstairs portion of the house had been occupied while the balcony was almost filled to capacity before the curtain went up.

The encores given the solos and duets and the orchestral numbers of the program showed more clearly than anything else that the entertainers put themselves over. T. Nuccio, baritone, touched his hearers' hearts with his brilliant playing of Puccini's "Fantasia from Il Trovatore". In response to repeated encores Mr. Nuccio played a number of popular selections as "The Glow Worm". It was only by the breaking in on the applause that the company was able to begin their next numbers.

For the loves of the wind instruments Charles Ball's cornet solos aroused enthusiasm. The cornet and trombone duet played by him and Mr. Edwards showed them to be artists in their lines.

Mr. Stroikoff upheld the honors of the stringed instruments with cello solo while the reed family was represented by Mr. Dahm's clarinet solo, "Humoresque".

One of the most beautiful combination of instruments was the string trio composed of Messrs. Kowalek, Stroikoff and Nuccio who played Beethoven's "Woodland" with artistic finesse.

WHEAT DOWN
EARLY TODAY

Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri Receive Showers, Helping Winter Crop

Chicago, April 20.—Rains in Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri led to general selling and to price downturns in wheat today during the early dealings. However, predictions of freezing temperatures for western Kansas and western Nebraska tended later to bring about rallies. Firmness in quotations at Liverpool counted also as a strengthening influence. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to 1 cent lower with May, $1.26 1/2 to $1.26, and July, $1.23 1/2 to $1.23 1/2, was followed by a setback all around and then by moderate upturns.

NO DECISION IN EVJEN CASE

Mayville, N. D., April 20.—The board of administration's further investigation into the fitness of Dr. J. O. Evjen to remain as president of the Mayville normal was devoted entirely to questioning of faculty members regarding their relations with the executive. The investigation took on the nature of an informal discussion with the instructors, it was said. Owing to the fact that H. P. Goddard, a member of the board, was unable to attend, there was no attempt to reach a decision in the matter. Mr. Goddard was called to St. Paul by the illness of his mother. The student body has not been brought into the investigation, members of the board said.

CONCERT HERE IS APPLAUDED

Many Enjoy Hallowell Musical Program Given at Auditorium

The varied program given by the Hallowell Musical company was received with enthusiastic applause by a large audience at the Auditorium last night.

The concert began to arrive at the auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. By 8 o'clock almost the entire downstairs portion of the house had been occupied with the balcony was almost filled to capacity before the curtain went up.

The choruses given the solos and duets and the orchestral numbers of the program showed more clearly than anything else that the entertainers put themselves over T. Nocturne, which touched the hearts of the audience with its brilliant playing of the piano. The solo from "The Troubadour" in response to repeated encores Mr. Nocturne played a number of popular selections.

It was only by the breaking in on the applause that the company was able to begin their next numbers.

For the loves of the wind instruments Charles Ball's cornet solos aroused enthusiasm. The cornet and trombone duet played by him and Mr. Edwards showed them to be artists in their lines.

Mr. Strookoff upheld the honors of the stringed instruments with cello solo while the real family was represented by Mrs. Dahm's clarinet solo, "Humoresque."

One of the most beautiful combinations of instruments was the string trio composed of Messrs. Kowalek, Strookoff and Nocturne who played Beethoven's "Woodland" with artistic finesse.

SHOWERS FALL IN WESTERN N. D.

Heavy showers fell in western North Dakota last night.

Dunn Center was drenched heavily, reporting almost a half inch of rain. Dickinson reported slightly more than a third of an inch, while the rainfall in Bismarck was 11.

Showers were reported at other places in the state.

POTATOES COST FARMER MORE THAN RECEIPTS

Douglas, N. D., April 20.—Unless settlement is effected between the Minnesota Potato Exchange and W. E. Hayes, Douglas farmer, for a carload of King Triumph potatoes, shipped by the latter to the exchange last November 14, and for which he has just received a blank draft and a deficit statement for $111.39, lawsuit will be started against the firm in an effort to force full payment for the potatoes.

H. L. Halvorsen, attorney for Mr. Hayes, declared it is Mr. Hayes' contention that the exchange agreed to pay him at least 53 cents a bushel for the potatoes, and that instead of receiving the approximately $175 which he thought the carload would net him, he finds that instead he is indebted to the amount of $111.39.

The net proceeds from the car, as reported by the exchange, were $184.43. Against this amount is charged, freight, $138.28; storage, $95.67; inspection, $4; reconduction, $41.18; 247 new sacks at 13 cents, $32.11. This makes total charges of $311.24. In addition to the net proceeds of the car, is added 345 sacks, left at 4 1/2 cents, which amounts to $15.52, added to $184.43, making total returns of $199.95, as compared with total charges of $311.24, leaving a deficit of $111.29.

WILLS PROPERTY TO HIS SON

A joint will of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kallio has been filed with the county court here. Mr. Kallio died Sunday at Wing and Mrs. Kallio had departed away previously. The will bequeathed two daughters, Mrs. Wm. Harin and Mrs. John Clyden one dollar each and the son, Jacob, Jr., the quarter-section of land which was the home place, in consideration for his services over a period of several years, and for caring for his parents until their death.

Get health—Keep health—Feel fine by eating Kellogg's Bran regularly.

Constipation and the toxic poison that come from it not only take the enthusiasm out of life, making you depressed and physically and mentally dull—but they head you into diseases such as Bright's, diabetes, rheumatism, etc. You can actually rid yourself of these dangers if you will EAT KELLOGG'S BRAN REGULARLY—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with every meal!

Kellogg's Bran is nature's most wonderful food. It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that as no other food can! Don't take a chance of "getting away" with constipation—IT WILL GET YOU! Don't ruin your health with pills and cathartics—they are as dangerous as constipation itself and give but temporary relief, at the very best!

What you should do for your family and for yourself is to serve Kellogg's Bran every day, in any one of several attractive ways, and fight constipation as you have never fought it before! AND YOU WILL WIN.

In the first place, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its sublimely flavor, adding greatly to any cereal with which it is used. Eat bran as a cereal with hot milk, or mix it with hot cereal before serving. Another method is to cook Kellogg's Bran with cereal. In each case add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person. A popular way is to sprinkle bran on hot or cold cereal. Bran makes wonderful bakery products. Recipes are printed on every package.

Kellogg's Bran is served in leading hotels, restaurants and clubs. It is sold by all grocers.

Who is Your Milkman?

We have been wishing for warm weather and here is guessing that it is here. With the coming of warm weather many conditions that were O. K. for the winter will have to change.

The baby that is fed on cow's milk will likely to be the most effected.

We would suggest that you look into what is the best for the baby.

We make a specialty of baby milk using the utmost care in the handling of milk from the time it arrives at our station until it reaches the customer.

Fill baby's bottle with our milk slightly more diluted than you would with ordinary milk. For ours is unusually rich in butterfat and should be diluted more freely.

How the Babies love our milk. Give them a bottle filled with it and they will be good until their milk is gone, and then for a good sleep, and more milk.

Good for the whole family too, also our Sweet cream butter.

If you are not now one of our customers, we would appreciate a trial order.

Yours for Quality and Service.
